GLASSWARE

What is Tempered Glassware?

Tempering is a thermal process of heating a glass close to melting point then cooling it rapidly. This causes the outer surface of the glass to cool and shrink faster than the inside of the glass wall, creating a tight skin. This closes the many hairline fractures that naturally occur in regular annealed glass and make a vastly stronger product.

How strong is Tempered Glassware?

Tempered glass is five times stronger than regular glass. This characteristic is known as mechanical shock resistance, making it a cost-effective choice.

Are all Glasses Fully Tempered?

All glassware with a "T" icon on it is fully tempered from rim to foot, inside and out. Not all manufacturers temper to the same high standards.

Is Tempered Glassware more Resistant to Temperature changes?

Fully tempered items are resistant to 135°C temperature changes. This resistance is tested by taking an article of glass from the oven at 135°C and then plunging it into cold water. The glassware will not shatter or break.

What does Sheer Rim mean?

Sheer rim glasses feature a fine, beadless edge produced to give optimal contact with the mouth, enabling a superior drinking experience.

Sheer Rim

Sheer rim glasses feature a fine, beadless edge produced to give optimal contact with the mouth, enabling the wine to be directed to specific tasting areas.

Dishwasher Safe

Solid, durable, shock tested, and capable of industrial dishwasher cycles while maintaining clarity.

Heat Safe

Thermal shock tested, resistant to 135°C and can withstand changes in temperature from hot to cold.

Seamless Flame Polished Stem

No seam between the bowl and stem, ensuring a more enjoyable drinking experience and an aesthetically pleasing glass.

Rim to Foot Tempered

Fully tempered glasses are resistant to mechanical shocks, extending the product's life by five times compared with non-tempered glass.

The Tulip Punchbowl, designed by Robert Schinkel and the winner of Libbey's Glassology design competition.

Punch dates back to the 1600's when British sailors travelling to the East and West created their own recipes with local spirits, mainly rum and spices and mixed them together in a bowl, known as a Punchbowl.

Robert's competition winning Punchbowl design was inspired by the tulip which was highly prized and very expensive in the 1600's.

Beer

Nucleated Glass ♦

These glasses contain etched pattern at the bottom which provide a nucleation site for all the bubbles, helping to maintain the carbonation in your beer for longer.

This means that bubbles continuously rise up to the surface of the glass, carrying with them the aromas trapped inside your brew, and break straight to your nose. Thus, nucleated glassware provides a superior olfactory experience.

An alchemy of design & lightness

The success of the Alkemist range lies in combining the complexity of design with the typical lightness of a tasting glass, an alchemy that makes this line unique and inimitable. The growing demand and suggestions from some of the leading hotels and restaurants in the world led us to develop the water glass and the gin glass. The composition of the line, including goblets and glasses, is suitable for both professional and home use.

Calabrese Barware

Our premium collection of Calabrese Barware produced as a result of our collaboration with Salvatore "The Maestro" Calabrese, one of the world's leading bartenders. The Maestro developed his talent for combining flavours at an early age while working in a bar in Maiori, a small village on Italy's Amalfi Coast.

Salvatore recently stepped down from his role as President of the United Kingdom Bartender's Guild, but continues to travel the world spreading his knowledge and encouraging others in the development and growth of the cocktail.
